DECORATION OPTION

Handle Printing

Handle printing allows your company name, logo, or website to be reinforced on the mug. The handle print can allow for extra information to be included if the print area is insufficient, or to gain a more 'finished' look. Few promotional mugs incorporate handle printing, so it would easily separate the mug from the masses.

Handle Flashes

Handle flashes add a touch of elegance to a promotional mug, creating a more exquisite brand and gift. Incorporated with the theme of a company's logo or mug design, a handle flash can help with brand identification. A handle flash is created by a single brush stroke along the width of a handle, using precious metals or colour.

Coloured Banding

Available on both ceramics and glassware, coloured banding can assist in tying a promotional product to a brand's identity. A coloured band adds style to a mug or glass, as well as differentiating it from other promotional products of their type. The band can also be applied to the edge of plates and bowls to make an even bigger impression.

Gilding

Gilding adds a touch of class to a promotional product. The gold band can transform any mug, plate, bowl or other promotional product into an exquisite gift that leaves a lasting impression. From a whisper-thin halo through to broad bands, giving options to suit all tastes and designs. Applied to a dinner plate, it can help frame images and designs. The effect is to gain a touch of brilliance.

Inside Base Print

An inside base print can reinforce a brand, as the design will not be seen at all times. This will reintroduce the brand after a drink is consumed, and will be easily visible to the owner of the promotional product. Not only is the design visible when the mug is empty, but when a drink is placed within and consumed, it will gradually appear at eye level.

Inside Rim Print

An inside rim print would be visible at most times, and provides extra space outside the print area to add more information or reinforce branding. When the mug is being used, the rim print would be at eye level, meaning the design would be hard to miss. Applied by adding a transfer, the rim print can be placed in any location inside the mug.

Backstamp

A mug with a backstamp has the capability to advertise to the entire room. As the mug is being used, the raising of the mug would proudly display any promotional message to surrounding people. The backstamp can also be used to number limited edition items, or reinforce the value of the product by adding 'bone china' to suitable products.

Gold or Silver Print

Available as glossy or matt, gold or silver print adds a touch of class to a standard mug. With no compromise on print area, the gold or silver print can be used for any design, creating an exquisite look of value and leaving a lasting impression. This type of print will set any promotional mug apart from the rest, creating a beautiful, distinctive design.

Government Stamping

If glassware is to be used in licensed premises, and metered measures are not used, every glass must be stamped with the CE mark and number to verify the measure given, this is called government stamping. This is done as a special order on glassware, and minimum quantities may apply. This stamp is usually added at the top of the glass, and can be positioned relative to the design.

HOW TO CHOOSE PROMOTIONAL MUG

(Products with logos are for reference only)

SHAPE OF MUG - Mugs comes in various shapes. It could be straight, round, triangle or barrel. You should choose one that matches your promotion theme and also to take advantage of its unique shape so that your mug will stand out whether in the kitchen or office.

SHAPE OF HANDLE - Handle is a always a major part of the mug. The shape of the handle usually matches the shape of the mug. Choose a handle that is comfortable to your fingers. Some of our mug comes with a thumb grip for better handling when the mug is filled.

A significant portion of the populations drinks coffee on a regular basis while many others drink tea. Averagely a person consumes 3.5 times of coffee/tea or water a day which means that your logo/message is seen at least 900 times a year. No office desk is complete without a mug and mug is a gift that is sure to be used and the recipient will have to thank you for every cup of he drinks. Mugs can convey a lot of meanings and information depending on the perspective you want to lend it.

SIZE - Size of a coffee mug is important. Depending on the information you need the mug to carry, you can choose a 6oz mug to a 1.5 litre giant mug. Importantly, whatever informations on the mug must be readable and neatly laid out so that your message can have the necessary exposure.

MATERIAL OF MUG - There are 3 main materials that are used to manufacture mugs.

i) STONEWARE

Stoneware are usually used to make coloured mugs. It is a little heavier and thicker but can keep the coffee warm for a longer time. It has a better quality than earthenware or ironstone which is not as durable.

ii) PORCELAIN

Porcelain are usually white and glossy. Porcelain mugs are thinner than a stoneware products but is more durable because of its low water absorption. The surface is smooth and glass-like, creating a hard, extra durable surface. The pieces are microwavable and dishwasher safe, resistant to breakage and chipping.

iii) BONE CHINA

Bone China is the highest grade in ceramic mugs. Thin walled with attractive warm body colour that can be appreciated by anyone. Our bone china mugs does not contain any natural animal bones because of the high cost. Our bone china is made from synthetic phosphates chemical that substitute the natural animal bones. The synthetic phosphates give a translucency to the mugs and with the extra smooth surface, bone china mugs exhibit a delicate, refined look

SAFETY - All our mugs are dishwasher, microwave and food safe. The mugs are made of lead free clay and glaze while the imprints are FDA approved.

COLOUR - White is the most popular colour as any imprints of logo/messages can be seen clearly. Drinks appear in a white mug will look much more appealing. Most promotions has a theme to follow and coloured mugs will come in handy to match logo or corporate colour; like a eco friendly campaign will use a green coloured mug and Batman will use a black mug etc.

ACCESSORIES - Some mugs can be fitted with coasters and covers and also tea strainers. Coasters and covers are most popular because they can keep your drinks clean. Mugs with tea strainers are given to Chinese tea drinkers.

Depending on your budget and designs, mugs are the best tools for building brands and a great gift for anybody. Take a little time and discuss with our mug consultant and we are certain that your advertising campaign will be a successful one.
